" While I, like most, knew Mr.Wojey through his concert photography,
It was his work with cats that I find truly inspiring.

It is fundamentally at the core of all his productions; yet much more personal. Not only do his depictions present these animals in an emotionally human form, but in a way that restores the dignity robbed by the internet. Their raw feelings are captured in RAW files reminding us that cats are people too. "

Corbin Wojey is a super chill guy. Shooting free photography of cars, concerts, and cats is his passion. He thinks pretentious art shit is for idiots. Much like his philosophy on life, he finds art laughable. If there was ever a greater philosophical or political objective behind his eyes, nobody would find it.
